How to: LibGuides

These research guides are created by librarians and staff to compile information pertaining to specific subjects, courses, or general topics. At UCLA, our LibGuides are branded as "Research Guides."

Accounts

To obtain an account, supervisors can email uclalibapps@library.ucla.edu to invite a new staff member. It's best to create a general LibApps account and ask to be added to each individual SpringShare product as needed. For instance, LibCal access and LibWizard access should probably be added at the same time as LibGuides. Accounts can also be added for student workers and non-library staff (professors, etc.).
